

Indigenous and Northern Affairs Canada – National Asbestos Inventory

Indigenous and Northern Affairs Canada (INAC) has a unique mandate with respect to federal real property since the majority of real property under the custodianship of INAC is considered non-operational; these structures are not physically used or occupied by INAC employees for program delivery. The INAC real property portfolio is held by the department for possible future transfer to Indigenous communities through comprehensive land claim agreements, additions to reserves or creation of new reserves, or treaty land entitlements.

To maintain transparency, all the structures are included in INAC's inventory for asbestos reporting purposes, including those intended for transfer to Indigenous communities.
